

Nekeisha Lindsey Selected as Kesler Chapel Woman of the Year

This is a release from Kesler Chapel A.M.E. Zion Church: Kesler Chapel A. M. E. Zion Church proudly salutes and congratulates Ms. Nekeisha Lindsey as their 2017 Woman of the Year. Each year a woman at Kesler Chapel is selected and voted on by the women of the church as the Woman of the Year. This individual is usually someone who has worked tirelessly in a variety of ways in support of the church's ministries. This year, Ms. Lindsey's outstanding commitment, faithfulness, and selfless devotion to her church make her a most suitable candidate for this recognition.

The theme for the Woman's Day program is "The Divine Woman: Past, Present, and Future." The program will be held on Sunday, March 12 at 10:00 a. m. at Kesler Chapel A. M. E. Zion Church, which is located at 708 Salisbury Street in Wadesboro. The speaker for this event is Mrs. Tan Kirby Davis. Mrs. Davis leads a consultancy and training practice with a focus on Leadership Development, Strategic Diversity and Inclusion, Talent Management, and Workforce Engagement. She is also on the staff of Clemson University in Clemson, SC.

Ms. Lindsey was born in Charlotte, but reared in Anson County where she attended the Anson County Schools. She returned to Charlotte where she attended King's College and received an Accounting Certification. She also attended South Piedmont Community College and received an Associate of Arts degree in Business Administration. Ms. Lindsey worked for twenty-five years with the Anson County school system in several capacities. She currently works for Alpha Health Services of Anson County.

Ms. Lindsey is active at Kesler Chapel A. M. E. Zion in many ministries: Director of the Senior Choir, Director of Children & Youth Programs, Vice-President of the Stewardess Board, Treasurer of the Sunday School, member of the Usher Board and the Women's Home and Overseas Missionary Society, and the Lay Council.

Ms. Lindsey is the daughter of Osborne and Angela Lindsey of Wadesboro. She has one brother and a sister-in-law, Victor and Caroline Lindsey of Raleigh. She has two sons, Warren, 27, and Camden, 17, both of Wadesboro. And she has one grandson, Ken'Yon Lindsey, 6, also of Wadesboro.
