Local Carolinas HealthCare System Hospices Host 28th Annual Holiday Auction

Carolinas HealthCare System's Hospice of Union County and Hospice of Anson County are hosting their 28th Annual Holiday Auction on Saturday, November 8 from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. at First Baptist Church, located at 109 Morrow Avenue in Monroe. The event will feature both a live and silent auction and a variety of items will be available for bidding - including beach and mountain vacation rentals; spa and golf packages; Christmas items; jewelry; gift baskets; restaurant gift cards; and much more. All proceeds will go to support families in need of services provided by both Hospice of Union County and Hospice of Anson County.

Doors open at 8 a.m. for registration and auction item preview. Both the silent auction and live auction will begin at 9 a.m. Admission is free and donations will be accepted.

"I've been volunteering with Hospice of Union County for 11 years and I am continually impressed with the level of dedicated care, comfort and assistance they provide to each and every person that walks through their door," said Jane Hawkins, loyal volunteer at Hospice of Union County. "Hospice of Union County is living out their mission every day, and it shows through events like the Holiday Auction, as people in the community are so willing to donate, participate and support because of their familiarity with the goodwill and good deeds Hospice of Union County provides to this community."

Carolinas HealthCare System's Hospice of Union County and Hospice of Anson County have delivered compassionate, quality care to patients in Union, Mecklenburg, Anson and Stanly Counties for 30 years. By focusing on the importance of quality of life - peace, comfort, and dignity - patients benefit from personalized physical, social, emotional and spiritual care that best fits their needs. Located in Monroe and Wadesboro, Hospice of Union County and Hospice of Anson County provide thousands of area residents with a special kind of care that many families have come to know and appreciate.

For more information about the Holiday Auction or to donate an item, contact Wayne Berg at 704-292-2130 or Wayne.Berg@houc.org.

CMC-Union Hosts Community Grand Opening Event

Come celebrate Union County's new Women and Children's Center

The community is invited to help celebrate the opening of CMC-Union's new Women and Children's Center at the grand-opening event on Saturday, November 15, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. There will be fun, entertaining activities for the whole family to enjoy. And you'll get a first look at the new center - soon to provide advanced women and children's care, close by in Union County.

Event activities include: Bounce Houses, Petting Zoo, Face Painting, Free Stuffed Animals for Children, Entertainment by Local Performers, Giveaways, Therapy Dogs, Free Food, Tours of the New Center, and a One-day Collection Site for Operation Christmas Child Shoeboxes.

In Anson and Union Counties we have access to advanced medical care for our children, but many other children around the world are not as fortunate. Join us in making a difference in the lives of those children by packing an Operation Christmas Child shoebox gift and bringing it to the grand opening event.

Crayons, craft supplies and coloring pages will be available at the event to create a personalized note or drawing for the child who will receive your shoebox. After the event is over, your shoebox gift will be delivered to a deserving child in another part of the world, and you will be able to follow your box online to see its final destination.

The grand opening celebration will be held at CMC-Union, located at 600 Hospital Drive in Monroe. For event questions call 704-631-0983 or visit CarolinasHealthCare.org/UnionOpening.

For more information about the Women and Children's Center, visit CarolinasHealthCare.org/cmc-union-women-children-center.

Art for Tots

The Cheraw Arts Commission offers "Art for Tots" mini-art classes on Tuesdays beginning November 18. The classes for ages 5 & under will meet at the Cheraw Community Center, located at 200 Powe Street, from 10 to 11:30 a.m. The classes geared for the young artist will explore colors, shapes and three dimensional objects. Each participant must be accompanied by an adult. Instructor for the art classes will be local artist Gina Bowles.

Cost for each class is $8 per child with supplies provided. The remaining classes will meet November 18, and December 2 & 16. Participants can select dates to attend. Registration is encouraged to properly prepare for the classes. Call the Cheraw Arts Commission to register and for additional information at 843-537-8420 ext 12.
