Ansonia Spotlight is on Mike Railton

This is a release from the Anson County Arts Council: Mike Railton has become a legend on the Ansonia stage. He started with The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee as the Comfort Counselor, and he has not stopped since!
 Mike won Best Lead Actor in a Musical last season for his wonderful portrayal of Daddy Warbucks in Annie. He most recently appeared as Jim in All Shook Up, and now is readying himself to play Kris Kringle in our production of Miracle on 34th Street.
 Mike is a loving family man, is very active in our community working as a volunteer fireman, and he's a featured vocalist with the Anson Singers.
 We love you Mike Railton! You are a huge asset to our county and to our Award-Winning Theatre!

Joseph Bathanti Presentation at SPCC on November 15

Poet and author Joseph Bathanti will be speaking with students, faculty and staff, and the community at South Piedmont Community College on the L.L. Polk Campus on Friday, November 15, from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. in the Garibaldi Building, Room 108. Bathanti is the former Poet Laureate of North Carolina (2012-14) and recipient of the 2016 North Carolina Award for Literature. He is the author of ten books of poetry, including a published book of poetry from 1989 where he describes his experiences in Anson County as a visiting artist. The book is aptly titled Anson County.

SPCC Poetry Club advisor Ryan Brown says, "Bathanti should hopefully reveal insider knowledge about the tools and tricks used by modern writers, as well as inspire future creative writers to pursue their dreams."

Brown admits being inspired by Bathanti to write when he visited South Piedmont in 2008, and he anticipates that visitors will have the same feelings during the presentation.

The Poetry Club at SPCC promotes the power of self-expression through poetry. It serves as an opportunity for students to use their own creativity and the written word to produce art. The goal is to make poetry feel accessible to all people and let them know that poetry is nothing more than honest expression of the heart, captured by language. The club was founded in 2014 and members enjoy poetry works and readings throughout the year.

This event is free and open to the public. For more information contact Ryan Brown at rbrown@spcc.edu or 704-272-5446.
