On Thursday, November 9, 2023, Mr. Paul Eugene Carter, 77, beloved husband, father, grandfather, brother and friend passed away at his home to be with his Lord and Savior.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, November 11, 2023, at Lilesville Baptist Church with Rev. Teddy Lawson officiating. Interment followed in Lilesville Cemetery with military honors.

The family greeted friends prior to the service at the church and other times at the home.

Paul was born August 8, 1946, in Anson County, and was a son of the late Wilson Eugene Carter and the late Minnie Bunn Carter. He was a graduate of Anson High School. Following high school graduation he was drafted to serve in the United States Army during the Vietnam War.

He was retired from Hornwood in Lilesville with nearly 40 years of service and was a lifelong member of Lilesville Baptist Church.

Those left to cherish his memory are his wife of 29 years, Shirley Marsh Mullis Carter; his children, Melissa Carter of Charlotte, Shane Carter (Tannis) of Holden Beach, Kevin Mullis (April) of Wadesboro and

On Sunday, November 12, 2023, Mr. Glenn Hart Chewning, 69, went to be with Lord and Savior while being cared for at McWhorter Hospice House in Monroe, NC.

Services were Wednesday, November 15, 2023, by the graveside at New Hope United Methodist Church Cemetery. The family greeted friends following the service.

Glenn was born May 5, 1954, in Anson County, and was a son of the late Joe Hart Chewning and the late Kate Lewis Chewning. He was a graduate of Bowman High School and received an Associates degree from Cheraw Technical Institute, now Northeast Technical College.

He was a longtime member of New Hope United Methodist Church in Morven. He loved his Lord dearly and southern gospel music.

Those left to cherish his memory are his daughter Lisa Chewning; his sisters-in-law, Helen Chewning of Wadesboro and Beverly Chewning of Chesterfield, SC; his nieces and nephews and their families and close family friends.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by his wife Barbara Griggs Chewning and his sister and brothers, Betty Jo Davis, Tommy Chewning, Bruce Chewning and Robert "Frosty" Chewning.

Glenn's family is most grateful to the staff of McWhorter Hospice House, 700 W. Roosevelt Blvd., Monroe, NC 28110 or to the charity of the donor's choice.

The arrangements were in care of Leavitt Funeral Home and online condolences may be made at leavittfh.com.

Eight Ways to Support an Alzheimer's Caregiver

November is National Alzheimer's Disease Awareness Month and Family Caregivers Month. To mark these events, the Alzheimer's Association - Western Carolina Chapter is encouraging people to lend a helping hand to more than 369,000 family members and friends serving as Alzheimer's caregivers.

"The demands of being an Alzheimer's caregiver are all-encompassing and increase over time as the disease progresses," said Katherine L. Lambert, CEO of the Alzheimer's Association - Western Carolina Chapter. "This month, we are recognizing family caregivers for all they do every day to support people in their lives living with dementia, and invite the public to identify ways to support them as caregivers."

Providing help and support to caregivers can be easier than most people think. Even little acts can make a big difference. The Alzheimer's Association offers these suggestions:

- Learn: Educate yourself about Alzheimer's disease - its symptoms, its progression and the common challenges facing caregivers. The more you know, the easier it will be to find ways to help.
- Build a Team: Organize family and friends who want to help with caregiving. The Alzheimer's Association offers links to several free, online care calendar resources that families can use to build their care team, share takes and coordinate helpers. (alz.org/help-support/caregiving/care-options/care-team-calendar)
- Give Caregivers a Break: Make a standing appointment to give the caregiver a break. Spend time with the person living with dementia and allow the caregiver a chance to run errands, go to their own doctor's appointment, participate in a support group or engage in an activity that helps them recharge. Even one hour could make a big difference in providing the caregiver some relief.
- Check In: Many Alzheimer's and dementia caregivers report feeling isolated or alone. So start the conversation - a phone call to check in, sending a note, or stopping by for a visit can make a big difference in a caregiver's day and help them feel supported.
- Tackle the To-Do List: Ask for a list of errands that need to be run - such as picking up groceries or prescriptions. Offer to do yard work or other household chores. It can be hard for a caregiver to find time to complete these simple tasks that we often take for granted.
- Be Specific and Be Flexible: Open-ended offers of support ("call me if you need anything" or "let me know if I can help") may be well-intended, but are often dismissed. Be specific in your offer ("I'm going to the store, what do you need?"). Continue to let the caregiver know that you are there and ready to help.
- Help for the Holidays: Holiday celebrations are often joyous occasions, but they can be challenging and stressful for families facing Alzheimer's. Help caregivers around the holidays by offering to help with cooking, cleaning or gift shopping. If a caregiver has traditionally hosted family celebrations, offer your home instead.
- Join the Fight: Honor a person living with the disease and their caregiver by joining the fight against Alzheimer's. You can volunteer with your local Alzheimer's Association chapter, participate in fundraising events such as Walk to End Alzheimer's and The Longest Day, advocate for more research funding, or sign up to participate in a clinical study through the Alzheimer's Association's Trial Match.

As part of National Alzheimer's Disease Awareness Month and National Family Caregivers Month, the Alzheimer's Association's Chapters in North Carolina are offering free education programs and support groups to help all North Carolina caregivers and their families.
