Success through motivation

Natasha Bines had strong motivation to be the first person in her immediate family to earn a college degree. As a divorced mom, Bines wanted to be the best possible role model and provider for her daughter. She knew that in order to be successful, furthering her education would be essential. She kept a small photo of her daughter in her book bag at all times and looked at it daily as a gentle reminder of why she needed to do whatever it took to earn her degree.

In May 2009, Bines received an associate degree in Human Services Technology from SPCC. She has since remarried, and now has a son. Bines has gone on to earn a bachelor's degree, and is beginning graduate school. She is employed by the Easter Seals UCP NC and VA as an individual community support supervisor.

"My children are my motivation to achieve all I can in life," she said.
