Huntleys Celebrate 50 Years of Marriage

On July 28, 1961, George Edmund Huntley took his bride to be, Joyce Carolyn Goodwin, along with their mothers across the state line into Chesterfield, SC where they were married. The couple celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary with a surprise dinner party given in their honor at Lilesville Baptist Church on Saturday, July 23rd, by family and friends, with a great turnout.

Ninety-nine attendees signed the guest register and awaited patiently for the couple to arrive (under false pretenses), and then for them to realize the large 16 x 20 framed photo hanging on the outside of the fellowship hall door was of them. The photo had been taken in May of 1961.

Special thanks to all who made this event possible and very memorable.

Georgia Maner Graduates from UNC Certified Education Chief Technology Officers Program

Georgia Maner, Supervisor for Assessment, AIG, and iTech at Anson County Schools, has successfully graduated from the 2011 Certified Education Chief Technology Officers (CeCTO) Program at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's School of Government. The North Carolina Department of Public Instruction and MCNC partnered with the UNC School of Government to offer this groundbreaking professional development opportunity.

The CeCTO program is the first education specific program for CTOs and CIOs in the nation and is proud to graduate its second annual class. The program is designed for K-12 Chief Technology Officers and Chief Information Officers whose responsibilities require a broad understanding of management, leadership, and enterprise topics. The course is approximately 240 hours in length. Course instruction covers enterprise issues, strategic technology planning, communication, project management, emerging trends, risk assessment and management, acquisition management, change management, leadership, security, legal issues and financial trends.

Maner is one of the 23 K-12 Chief Technology Officers who successfully completed the course this year, joining 34 graduates from the inaugural year. The CeCTO program is one of the many offerings in the nationally acclaimed Certified Government Chief Information Officers' series, which was pioneered by the UNC School of Government's Center for Public Technology. The CGCIO program, started in 2005, was the first of its kind in the nation and has successfully graduated more than 600 public sector IT professionals across the country.

Local Farmers Can Rent No-Till Drill

The Brown Creek Soil and Water Conservation District would like to announce the opportunity for farmers to rent a no-till grass drill for use in the surrounding area. This drill allows for pastures to be reseeded without excessive ground disturbance, which in turn can reduce the risk of erosion and protect water quality. Wildlife food plots can also be established using this equipment.

Local farmers can rent the drill at a rate of $10 per acre within Anson County, or $15 per acre in surrounding counties. All proceeds from this program will stay in the district and be used for maintenance and operation of the drill. It is recommended that the drill be used with at least a 40 horsepower tractor, and cover an area no larger than 20 acres.

Please contact Tina Rowell at (704) 694-3516 Ext. 3 for rental information.
