South Piedmont Becomes First North Carolina Community College to Offer Unified Sports Team

South Piedmont is now home to the first Unified Sports team at a community college in North Carolina. "We're proud to become the first community college in the state to offer Unified Sports, but even prouder to offer this opportunity to our students," said Nikki Myers, director of South Piedmont's Compass Education program. "This will go such a long way toward building understanding, empathy, common ground, and true friendships among our students and employees. We welcome anyone who loves sports and wants to get to know other members of our College community to come out and participate."

Part of the Special Olympics, Unified Sports joins people with and without intellectual disabilities on the same team. More than a million people worldwide take part in Unified Sports.

South Piedmont's Unified Sports team will play disc golf, utilizing the Dry Creek Disc Golf Course, located behind the Old Charlotte Highway campus, 4209 Old Charlotte Highway. Assistant Dean of Allied Health and Public Services David Wheeler, who is also an accomplished disc golfer, will provide lessons.

"Don't worry if you've never played disc golf," said Myers. "This is more about coming out, having fun, getting to know other members of the South Piedmont community, and working together as a team."

South Piedmont's Unified Sports Team will meet for the first time from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. on March 5. To participate, simply attend!

For more information, email Myers at nmyers@spcc.edu.

All Aboard the Steam Over Spencer:

A Live Steam Model Train Event at the N.C. Transportation Museum!

All aboard! Join us for the Steam Over Spencer: A Live Steam Model Train Event on March 6 – 8 from 9 a.m. – 5 p.m. Come experience several large operating model train displays featuring scale model locomotives that are powered by live steam!

A large variety of locomotives and railroad cars will be featured during this event. These locomotives produce their own power from a variety of fuel sources rather than being powered by an electric current through the track, making them different from conventional electric trains. Owners of these fascinating models are expected to come from across the country to share their detailed collections with other hobbyists and museum visitors.

Cost to attend the event is $6 for adults, $5 for seniors age 65+ and active military with ID, and $4 for children ages 3-12. Museum members and children under the age of three are free. The N.C. Transportation Museum's regular exhibits will be open during the event and are included in admission. Train rides aboard the museum's train are also available for an additional price on Saturday and Sunday.

Kids and adults alike will enjoy watching these model trains in action while checking out the Museum That Moves You! The museum features a collection of trains, planes, automobiles, and trucks located in several historic buildings and on the 60-acre grounds.

Go to nctransportationmuseum.org/steam-over-spencer for more information on this event and to purchase advance tickets. The event will be held rain or shine. Taxes and fees apply and will appear on the order during the ticketing purchase process.

New Video: Prescribed Burning on State Forest Lands: A Two-Part Series.

Did you know that the N.C. Forest Service uses prescribed burning on the forested lands they manage across the state? This first video installment of their two-part series, called "Prescribed Burning on State Forest Lands," features a recently burned tract of pine timber at Clemmons Educational State Forest in Clayton. Forest Supervisor Kevin Pittman walks us through the process of planning and carrying out a type of prescribed burn called a hazard reduction burn and the benefits of using prescribed fire as a tool for managing a forest.

You can find the video on YouTube by searching "Prescribed Burning Clemmons."

Medicaid Matters: Your Voice is Needed!

Call your U.S House of Representative today!

This is a release from the NC Council on Developmental Disabilities: Did You Know: NC Medicaid covers 3 out of 10 of people with disabilities* across North Carolina. This means that people have access to doctors, therapies, home and community-based services, direct support workers, and so much more.

Medicaid is important to people with intellectual and developmental disabilities. In North Carolina, Medicaid supports people with I/DD through the Innovations Waiver, 1915(i), and other home and community based services.

The U.S. House is set to vote on a budget resolution that could drastically cut Medicaid funding and impact North Carolina.

Call your US Representative TODAY to tell them about the importance of Medicaid and how it supports you in your everyday life.

Call your US House of Representative: 866-426-2631

Let them know the impact that cuts to Medicaid will have on your life and your community. Tell them what Medicaid does for you. If you have HCBS (also sometimes called a 'waiver'), tell them how it helps you and what you will lose if that Medicaid service goes away.

Find your representative at: house.gov/representatives.

Your calls make a difference! Even if your representative has said they support Medicaid funding and don't want Medicaid cuts to impact people with disabilities, it is still important to call them and share what the impact of Medicaid cuts would be to you.
