

Meteorologist Visits Anson High School

On Wednesday, May 9, John Ahrens, Meteorologist with WSOC-TV in Charlotte, visited with students at Anson High School. Ahrens participated as a speaker in the Paw Power Speaker Series promoted by the Career Development Center. He spoke to students who were interested in Meteorology and/or Broadcast Journalism. Ahrens provided insight into courses, skills, and attitudes that students need in order to pursue a job in the television venue as well as meteorology. He was very entertaining, and also shared some tips and tricks to watch for when watching the news broadcasts. While Ahrens was on campus he spoke briefly to one of the Earth and Environmental science classes. He shared his stories of being a storm chaser and his close encounters with tornados. The Career Development Center looks forward to hosting him again in the future.

Banquet Held to Honor Women Who Serve their Community

The Tau Nu Zeta Chapter of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc. of Monroe held their 5th Annual Community Doves Leadership and Service Banquet on March 24 at the Anson County Agricultural Center. The banquet recognized five outstanding women who serve their communities through both leadership and service in the areas of business, government, education, religion and community volunteerism. The honorees were Mrs. France Ratliff, Mrs. Faye Love, Mrs. Mary Harrell, Ms. Doretha Hamilton and Ms. Donnie Lewis. The event featured dinner, entertainment and awards. Anson County Teen Democrats Volunteer During Election

The Anson County Teen Democrats volunteered to help out during early voting by passing out literature to educate citizens about the candidates and the Amendment on the ballot for the May Primary. Mrs. Vancine Sturdivant, Anson County Democratic Party Chair stated, "We need to make our youth more aware of the voting process and to instill in them the importance of voting at an early age."
