Look Before You Lock Your Car

Prevent child and pet hot car deaths

On average, 38 children under the age of 15 die each year from heatstroke after being left in a vehicle. Here are some steps to prevent heatstroke in hot cars:

- 1) Never leave your child alone in the car, not even during a quick trip to the store.
- 2) Keep car doors and trunks locked and keep key fobs out of reach, so kids can't climb into cars on their own.
- 3) Create reminders. Place your phone, briefcase, or purse in the backseat when traveling with a child.
- 4) Take action. If you see a child alone in a car, call 911.

US FDA Approves Lecanemab for Early Alzheimer's Disease

Alzheimer's Association committed to working to maximize patient access

On Thursday, July 6, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) granted traditional approval to lecanemab (Eisai/Biogen), brand name Leqembi, for patients confirmed to be in early stage Alzheimer's disease. While the treatment was granted accelerated approval in January 2023, this is the first Alzheimer's treatment to receive traditional approval that changes the underlying course of the disease.

Following the FDA decision, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) announced their plan to enable access to FDA traditionally approved Alzheimer's treatments. The announcement - which includes additional details about its own low touch registry - is an important development for people living with Alzheimer's disease and their families.

Joanne Pike, Dr.P.H., Alzheimer's Association president and CEO said, "We appreciate today's action by CMS and their efforts to reduce physician burden in their registry approach. It is clear that CMS leaders have listened to experts, advocates, people living with Alzheimer's and families. It is reflected in their plan for delivering coverage of traditionally approved treatments proven to deliver meaningful benefit."

For people not enrolled in Medicare, including many treatment-eligible individuals under age 65, we expect other payers to ensure burden free access. For payers that were waiting for CMS to be clear about their intentions, CMS has now indicated that their objective is broad access. It is time for all payers to deliver broad access."

Robert Egge, Alzheimer's Association chief public policy officer said, "Alzheimer's Association advocates have tirelessly shared their stories in congressional hearings and in rallies at the White House and in all 50 states about the impact that clinically meaningful treatments like Leqembi will have on their lives. Today is an important advance in making access to this and future treatments a reality."

Maria C. Carrillo, Ph.D., Alzheimer's Association chief science officer said, "An early and accurate diagnosis of Alzheimer's has a positive impact on health outcomes, access to treatments, and eligibility for research trials, plus vital support and information services. CMS also said they will cover amyloid confirmation diagnostics, removing an obstacle to accurate diagnosis that far too many individuals have faced."

Alzheimer's - a progressive, degenerative and fatal brain disease - is the most common cause of dementia. For Alzheimer's Disease Facts and Figures, an annual report by the Alzheimer's Association, visit alz.org/facts.

An estimated 6.7 million Americans age 65 and older are living with Alzheimer's dementia, including 180,000 North Carolina residents, a number estimated to grow to as many as 210,000 by 2025.

Nationally, more than 11 million caregivers of people with Alzheimer's disease or other dementias. In North Carolina, 369,000 caregivers provide a total of 533 million hours of unpaid care, valued at a total of $8 billion.

One in three seniors dies with Alzheimer's or other dementia.

Nearly two-thirds of those with Alzheimer's - 3.9 million - are women.

Older non-Hispanic Blacks and Hispanic Americans are disproportionately more likely than older whites to have Alzheimer's or other dementias.
