Mrs. Evelyn Kirk Napier Griffin

Mrs. Evelyn Kirk Napier Griffin, 96, died Wednesday, August 22, 2012, at Ambassador Health and Rehab in Wadesboro.

Services were held on Friday, August 24, 2012, by the graveside in Williams Cemetery in Polkton.

Evelyn was born April 8, 1916, in Anson County, a daughter of the late Walter Bascom Napier and the late Annie Flossie Kirk Napier. In addition to her parents she was preceded in death by her son, David Griffin, her brothers and sister, Ed and Harry Napier and Maxine Wood.

Surviving are her first cousin and guardian, Lorena Kirk of Polkton; her children, John Roswell Griffin of Taylors, SC, Mary Jo Griffin and Timothy Griffin, both of Gastonia and their families.

Her family is most grateful for the high level of care and loving concern for Evelyn at Ambassador Health and Rehab. She became a resident there 30 years ago and the family could not have asked for better care given her. Evelyn's life was made richer for having been loved and cared for by her friends and extended family there.

Mrs. Mary Lee Horne Marsh

Mrs. Mary Lee Horne Marsh of Wadesboro, 86, died August 25, 2012.

Funeral service was held on Tuesday, August 28, 2012, at Leavitt Funeral Home.

Mary Lee was born November 19, 1925, near Peachland to the late Walter and Elizabeth "Lizzie" Wallace Horne. She was a member of Mt. Carmel Baptist Church from the time it was established. She sang in the choir and joined in the activities of the church.

Mary Lee graduated from Peachland High School with the class of 1944. That same year she married her sweetheart Marion Marsh while he was on leave from the US Navy. When the war was over they made their home in Wadesboro.

Among her homemaking activities she enjoyed sewing clothes for her children. Mary Lee wrote poems, many of which she used in her handmade cards that she sent to friends and family. She was also a dedicated amateur genealogist, and her Horne family history along with other family research has been enjoyed by many. She was preceded in death by her husband, Marion "Buck" Marsh, and her sister, Alma H. Pope of Charlotte.

Mary Lee is survived by her four children, Frances Marsh (Jim Helms) of Albemarle, Patricia Marsh Thomas (Bruce) of Olive Branch, Kay Martin (Ken) of Ansonville and Wayne Marsh of Wadesboro; six grandchildren, Lynn Thomas, Eric Thomas, Justin Thomas, Elizabeth Thomas, Chandra Stegall and Travis Martin; twelve great grandchildren, Timothy Bowers, Cage Rostad, twins Austin and Dylan Thomas, Trevor Thomas, Sebastian Wright, Olivia Stegall, twins Madelynn and Jillian Thomas, Lane Stegall, Lydia Thomas and Merritt Martin; great grand son Cameron Burr; brother Bruce Horne (Janet) of Cary; and many nieces and nephews.

Memorials may be made to Mt. Carmel Baptist Church of Peachland, NC or Hanna Chapel United Methodist Church of Wadesboro, NC.

Effie Little Foundation Donation Sponsors Arts Council School Programs

In a release from the Arts Council: Monday, August 27th was the first day of school for students in Anson County, but teachers and students weren't the only ones gearing up for the upcoming school year. The Anson County Arts Council has been planning as well. With the help of the Effie Little Foundation the Arts Council will be able to provide a quality dramatic performance by Bright Star Touring Theatre in almost every school. Bright Star's programs are highly entertaining but educational as well and relevant to the current curriculum.

- A presentation of Maximus Mars, a 45-minute program about cyber bullying, will be presented on September 13th for Wadesboro Elementary's 4th, 5th, and 6th graders.
- On October 8th Bright Star actors will use bluegrass music to tell the tall tales of Paul Bunyon, Johnny Appleseed and Daniel Boone to Wadesboro Primary's 2nd and 3rd graders and at Peachland Elementary School.
- On November 13th Romeo and Juliet, a "unique" version of the Shakespeare classic, will go to Anson High School and Anson Early College. Both principals were delighted with this selection since the students study Romeo and Juliet. Both schools will make sure the students in their "new" drama clubs are able to attend. Approximately 225 students at the high school and 150 at the Early College will get to see this presentation.
- Also on November 13th Lady of Bullyburg, a story about how to deal with bullies, will play to 150 K-2 graders at Morven Elementary School.

On February 15th Bright Star Theatre will present Struggle for Freedom, the story of Martin Luther King, to the 7th graders at Anson Middle School and George Washington Carver and Friends to students at Ansonville Elementary. Lilesville Elementary will see The Ugly Duckling in the spring. This is a delightful production that teaches self respect and anti-bullying to kindergarten, first and 2nd graders.

Plans are ongoing to bring quality educational entertainment to children in all our schools. The Arts Council would like to thank the principals at these schools for working with us to schedule these events. We especially thank the Effie Little Foundation for sharing our mission and making this possible.

Wadesboro Chiropractor Encourages Backpack Safety

Backpacks are a necessary item on all back to school lists. As students gear up for back to school this fall, Dr. Brian Dial of Wadesboro Chiropractic would like to offer parents ways to help children avoid backpack injuries.

Over 79 million students carry a backpack to school each day. While carrying a backpack may seem harmless, it can cause painful back and neck problems for students who don't pack or carry their backpacks properly.

These types of childhood injuries can lead to long term health problems.

Safety tips on how to avoid backpack injuries:

- Wear both shoulder straps evenly to properly distribute backpack weight.
- Get the correct size backpack for your child.
- The backpack should not extend below the lower back. Bigger is not better.
- Lighten the load and put the heaviest items in the backpack first keeping them close to the body.
- Lift the backpacks with your legs and place it on one shoulder strap at a time.
- Do not leave the backpacks on the floor where they can become a tripping hazard.
- Choose a quality backpack that has wide well cushioned shoulder straps with a lumbar support/padding.
- Talk to teachers about the need to bring home textbooks or if at all possible, have an extras set for use at home.
- Do not pack too much weight. Backpack Maximum Weight Chart for children (According to the American Physical Therapy Association, American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons, and the American Chiropractic Association), follow these guidelines: Weight of (In pounds) and maximum backpack weight

60 lb child - 5 lbs
60-75 lb child - 10 lbs
75-100 lb child - 15 lbs
100-125 lb child - 18 lbs
125-150 lb child - 20 lbs
150-200 lb child - 25 lbs
*No one should carry more than 25 pounds in a backpack
