

Wadesboro Primary School Back in Action!

Teachers and staff at Wadesboro Primary School spent the first week of school working on setting expectations in all areas of the school, creating goals, and laying a foundation for a productive and cooperative year of learning. Eager students dove into their studies excited for the 2015-2016 school year. Bus safety rules were also reviewed and practiced throughout the school. Students were treated to a successful week with morning greetings and classroom visits from the Bearcat football team Friday morning.

Anson County 4-H'ers Win at State Skillathon Contest

The North Carolina State Skillathon Contest was held on July 28 at the Beef Educational Unit, NC State University in Raleigh. Twenty-one teams competed in the Junior Age Division (9-13). The Anson County team placed 5th overall in the competition. Portions of the test included feed identification, breed identification, equipment identification, retail meat cut identification, quality assurance, as well as a written test that encompasses anything related to beef cattle, meat goats, sheep and hogs. The Anson Team also tied for second in the specific quality assurance section of the test where they had to select a herd bull based on EPD's and calculate statistics for a truckload of hogs.

The Anson County team of 4-H'ers included Gracie McSwain, daughter of Jeremy and Jennifer McSwain of Norwood and Hayden and Olivia Allen, children of Scott and Alicia Allen of Polkton. All three 4-H'ers are members of the Anson County 4-H Livestock Club.

For more information on the Anson County 4-H Livestock Club please contact Jessica Morgan, Agriculture Agent, at 704-694-2415 or jessica_morgan@ncsu.edu.
