Wildlife Commission Public Hearing is Thursday
The N.C. Wildlife Resources Commission has set the schedule for its annual public hearings. Each year, the Commission adjusts hunting, fishing and trapping seasons and rules in response to wildlife population changes, wildlife conservation objectives, or public needs and desires. Public comments on proposed rule changes received through the public hearing process is a critical component in the decision making process.
All hearings begin at 7 p.m. The hearing for Anson County, which is in District 6, will be held on September 8 at the South Stanly High School in Norwood.
The purpose of the Raleigh public hearing is to receive comments on proposed changes to Falconry Permitting Rules only.
For more information on the rulemaking process, download "From Proposal to Regulation" at www.ncwildlife.org.
