

Charlie Brown, A Good Man!

Encore performance added for this coming Sunday

If you missed You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown, performed at the Ansonia Theatre this past weekend, you may want to rethink your reasons, whatever they may be, for your absence. Anson County has much local talent and the Ansonia, whatever the venue, for showcasing some of that talent before a packed house during the three-night run of the play.

But wait! You're in luck. The cast has agreed to an encore performance on Sunday, October 28, at 3 p.m. (doors open at 2:30). Tickets are on sale now for general admission seating from the Anson County Arts Council.

The cast includes David Michael as Charlie Brown, Gina Gilmore Clarke as Sally, Emily Litaker Privette as Snoopy, Samuel Kraus as Linus, Darius Cox as Schroeder and Melody Gilmore Goodwin as Lucy. These main characters portrayed now familiar roles from the Charles M. Schultz comic strips and television shows with personality and wit and humor. Other members of the cast include Hannah Chaney as Peppermint Patty, Gage Talton as Pig Pen and Erin Thomas as Marci. Everyone obviously worked very hard and put in many hours of rehearsal time in preparation for the "family-fun-tastic" event.

If you were without a playbill, it wasn't difficult to determine the portrayal of characters as each entered the stage. Charlie was painfully pitiful, while oozing low self-esteem and second guessing himself. Sally was clever and witty, downright hilarious! Snoopy was peppy and playful as a pup and very much at one with her doghouse. Schroeder was soulful and insightful, and Linus was melodic and lighthearted. The libretto was light sure found her singing voice and managed to deliver some thought provoking advice, whether her constituents decided to heed that advice or not!

If you missed the play... "You're a blockhead!" Now go and see for yourself what a good man Charlie Brown really is this Sunday at the Ansonia Theatre, but not without a ticket because it's sure to be a sellout.
