Camp HOLLA! A.C.E.'s the Summer with Adventurous Six-Week Program

This is a release from Holla: With the help of adult, high school and college student volunteers, field trips, several partners and the game of tennis; HOLLA! ACE-ed the summer with a six-week summer camp loaded with information, growth, fun and challenges.

"HOLLA! used the USTA/NJTL Academic Creative Engagement (A.C.E.) Curriculum this summer to keep children active mentally and physically," said Johnie Pettiford, camp director.

A.C.E. is designed to improve children's attitudes and behaviors around math, literacy and school climate. It is an out-of-school academic curriculum connected to the Common Core State and National Educational Standards and the sport of tennis. Activities encourage academic achievement, health and wellness and social and emotional skills. When combined with a tennis program, it provides children with important Developmental Assets.

The classroom portions of the A.C.E. Curriculum were taught by volunteers, Carolei Bryan and Brianna Bennett, while the tennis techniques were conducted by Anson County Early College Student, Brenre Taylor. Brenre is a charter member of The HOLLA! Eagles Tennis Team.

Dr. Florita Bell Griffin's Little Flower Literacy Curriculum was also used during the camp to build and strengthen reading and writing skills.

The six-week summer project kicked off with youth volunteers separating and categorizing the hundreds, maybe thousands of books that have been donated to the HOLLA! Reading Room in Morven, NC and the HOLLA! Literacy House located in Wadesboro, NC. The Reading Room and Literacy House are now year-round programs provided by HOLLA!

"I was able to become a part of the HOLLA! program thanks to a friend of my grandmother's," said Kaleil Colson. "She asked Mrs. Vancine Sturdivant if she could help me get my community service hours in. Mrs. Sturdivant pointed me in the direction of Leon Gatewood and the rest is history," he added.

Kaliel, an Anson High School Youth Career Connect Student, is one of the several students who accumulated over 100 volunteer hours mentoring, tutoring and assisting with summer camp duties at the HOLLA! Center this summer. "When parents and grandparents know what is required of their children and advocate for them, wonderful things can happen," said Leon Gatewood, CEO of HOLLA!

HOLLA! was fortunate to have two college students, University of Tennessee Student, Brianna Bennett and North Carolina State University Student, Carolei Bryan to volunteer for the entire six-week period.

"As a college student, there are many options that await you during the summer. One could take summer classes, work, volunteer, or obtain an internship. My summer involved volunteering at the HOLLA Center in Morven, NC and I am grateful for the opportunity to be a part of the change that they make," said Carolei Bryan, a North Carolina State University Senior majoring in medicine.

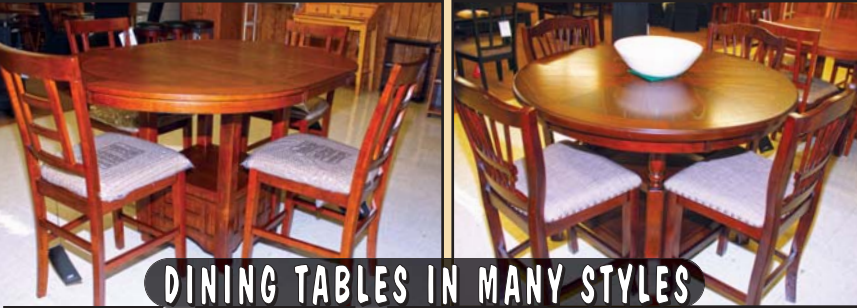

Along with the A.C.E. and Little Flower Curriculums, Camp HOLLA! also included several local and traveling field trips. Local field trips included The Brown Creek Creamery, The Wadesboro Rotary Planetarium and Science Center and The Anson County Regional Wastewater Treatment Plant. The group also visited The North Carolina Civil Rights Museum in Greensboro, NC as well as Spelman College, Clark College and Morehouse College in Atlanta Georgia. While in Atlanta, the group also experienced the excitement of being in the studio audience during two live tapings of The Family Feud Game Show.

HOLLA! officials say that the success of Camp HOLLA! could be credited to the adult and youth volunteers who showed up every morning on time and eager, the many partners who shared their resources and time, the United Way of the Central Carolinas who sponsors the summer program, the HOLLA! Center and its staff, or the several children who came prepared to learn something exciting and new all summer long. Whatever the case, it was a rewarding experience for all, they say.

HOLLA! thanks the following partners who either visited the center, provided a program and/or hosted a tour for the youth this summer.

ANGELA J. CARTER
For District Court Judge

Greetings! My name is Angela Carter and I am running for District Court Judge for the 16A Judicial District which includes Hoke, Anson, Richmond, and Scotland Counties.

I am a native North Carolinian originally from the Hoke County area, but my father spent 27 years serving our country, and so I moved quite a bit and went to 13 different schools as a child.

I graduated from the University of Texas at El Paso with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science in 2001. I graduated from the University of Virginia School of Law in 2004. I am licensed to practice law in Virginia and North Carolina. I practiced law in Virginia until I moved back to North Carolina in 2008 and opened my own practice.

I have sought spiritual guidance and know that God has prepared me for such a time as this. I believe I have many qualities that make me the best candidate for Judge.

- I am an experienced litigator in the areas of family, criminal and civil law.
- I have three children which means that the person making decisions about your children that will have lasting and permanent effects on your life will understand the true impact.
- I have worked my way from poverty to prosperity, so I understand what it means to struggle and that a helping hand can be the difference between a life of despair and a second chance.
- I have invaluable life experience leading others, coaching our youth and standing up for victims of domestic violence that will add knowledge and depth to my ability to make fair and compassionate decisions.
- The most important quality I bring to this position is perspective. My life experiences have shaped me in to a person who is very analytical but understanding of the need to consider all the circumstances and temper justice with mercy.

Every decision I make will be fair and just because it will be guided by my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. I share the values of our community. I believe in family, integrity, accountability, compassion, teamwork, and above all, love!

I HOPE I CAN EARN YOUR VOTE.
