Community Blood Center of the Carolinas Awards $1,000 Scholarship to Janay Lindsey

The Community Blood Center of the Carolinas (CBCC) has awarded seven $1,000 scholarships to area students through its Sixth Annual "Students Saving Summer" scholarship program. Janay Lindsey from Lilesville, a student at Anson High School, was one of the recipients.

Throughout the summer area high school and college students partnered with CBCC to hold summertime blood drives to help meet the needs of local patients. Janay was one of seven top producing students of the summer and will receive a $1,000 scholarship from CBCC:

"Congratulations to the seven students who hosted the top producing blood drives and received a scholarship from the Community Blood Center of the Carolinas," said Kim Jones, Director of Recruitment and Retention for Community Blood Center of the Carolinas. "We are grateful to all the students who participated in this year's 'Students Saving Summer' program and everyone who supports local patients by hosting community blood drives during the critical summer and winter months, when blood donations traditionally decrease."

In addition to the "Students Saving Summer" scholarship program, CBCC offers other scholarship and grant opportunities for local students and schools throughout the year, including a "Holiday Hero" scholarship opportunity for this holiday season. Since 2009 CBCC has awarded more than 300 scholarships and grants. For more information about CBCC scholarship opportunities or hosting a community blood drive contact Kim Jones at 704-972-4727 or at KLJones@cbcc.us

For more information on hosting a blood drive or donating blood in your area visit www.cbcc.us or call 704-972-4700.
